

Is your Organization Planning to Conduct Facility Condition Assessments in 2022?

If so, are you planning to use Sourcewell for procurement?

Save time and money by combining the buying power of more than 50,000 government, education, and non-profit organizations. Sourcewell holds hundreds of competitively solicited cooperative contracts ready for use.

Why does contracting through Sourcewell matter?

“Sourcewell exists for one reason: to help government, education, and non-profits work more efficiently. We offer a wide range of cooperative contracts and have been a trusted agency resource for more than four decades. You save time and money, and participation is free—no fees and no obligation.” – Sourcewell-mn.gov

Learn more about Sourcewell and how to become a member. Visit Sourcewell-mn.gov

Roth IAMS is ranked #1, by Sourcewell, in North America for Facility Condition Assessment Consulting in 2021-22. Roth IAMS was awarded a Sourcewell contract following a rigorous request for proposal process resulting in contracts that meet, or exceed, local procurement requirements.

Contract with Roth IAMS directly for Facility Condition Assessment Services:

Sourcewell is a national, free service to pre-qualify vendors for institutional and public facilities. Members can by-pass RFPs and engage quality consultants directly.

A great way to get started is a Pilot Project to test out our services and our fees on a few key facilities. Roth IAMS is currently working on and or discussing pilot projects with several secondary education campuses. Imagine doing a quick study of a few of your most sensitive facilities to assess Capital Planning, Asset Management, Energy Efficiency, Building Performance, or ADA compliance.

Is your Organization Planning to Conduct Facility Condition Assessments in 2022?

Benefits of a Pilot Project:

Capital planning, based on reliable and defensible data can help you prioritize and obtain funding.

- Check out our website at RothIAMS.com or contact Kyle Christiansen, RA – VP of US Operations at christiansen@rothIAMS.com
- Roth IAMS is currently working with several managers of education-based facilities on pilot