

Energy Audit Practice Lead

Roth IAMS is looking to grow its team once again!

We are seeking experienced and passionate Energy Auditing Professionals to lead the growth of our Energy Auditing Practice.

Do you have a passion for delivering high-quality outcomes and driving operational excellence? Roth IAMS is a growing, industry-leading company specializing in integrated asset management and capital planning services across North America. Our services include Facility Condition Assessments (FCAs), Accessibility Assessments, Structural Assessments, Energy Audits and Capital Asset Database Management. We provide our infrastructure assessment and capital planning expertise to various sectors, including higher education, K-12 schools, healthcare facilities, municipal and provincial governments, and more.

Key Responsibilities:

- Perform field review/testing and data collection and preparation of Energy audits (ASHRAE Level 1 & 2) or BOMA BEST audits complete with observations, conclusions, energy savings calculations, recommendations, budgets and options analysis.
- Perform detailed building energy modelling using applicable software.
- Perform Net-Zero energy audits.
- Prepare reports for energy audits and modelling.
- Maintain a high level of product quality; technically, grammatically, and as per company master report formats. All written reports to be proofread first by you, then peer reviewed by the Project Manager or other designated Peer Reviewer. Ensure draft documents are prepared to the level expected by the Project Manager and Peer Reviewer.
- Since we are committed to our clients, you may be required to be responsive during and outside of normal business hours (cell phone and VPN network access will be provided);
- Be cognizant of and/or manage time and project costs to ensure project profitability;
- Assist and/or manage planning of projects through to completion;
- Collaborate with the proposal team in submission in response either to RFPs or callups.
- Prepare SOPs or processes to obtain defensible and consistent data to be used in the deliverables
- Join an association connected with the practice, and attend conference and seminars to get updates on the practice
- Prepare training presentations to onboard new team members for their specific practice.
- Collaborate with marketing team to create literature that defines the practice and can be used to grow the practice.
